DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoebel, US #4,947,566 in view of Glick, US #4,807,807.
- 3. Hoebel teaches a sign made by providing stiff backing sheet 12 with adhesive 14 thereon, placing a photograph (which can be made by using a computer and printing on a flexible sheet) on the adhesive, and including mounting device 30 on the other side thereof (Figure 3).
- 4. Hoebel does not teach using a transparent cover sheet, however, protective, transparent sheets are old and well known in the art of displays. Glick teaches a display including adhesively secured transparent sheet 8 placed over photograph 22 (Figure 9). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to utilize such an adhesively attached transparent sheet on the display of Hoebel so as to protect the display, as is taught by Glick.
- 5. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoebel and Glick as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Shanok et al. US #5,253,439.

6. Hoebel and Glick do not teach a frame for the display, however, this is well known in the art. Shanok et al. teach a frame placed around a display (Figure 1). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to utilize such a frame for the display of Hoebel and Glick so as to provide a more attractive display, as is taught by Shanok et al.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US patents 6,701,651, 4090464, 3591943, 6677021, 4640030, 2256399 and 3664910 are cited as of interest.
